But we've always done it this way. " They don't know every thing." If it ain't broke don't fix it. And so on. These are the excuses we have all heard when an action is questioned as to not being in compliance with the laws of the order. So why should we know and follow the rules? This not meant to be a treatise on rule of law, or justice, or ethics and principles. In brief word, we follow the laws of the order because we swore an obligation to do so. That obligation states we will obey and comply-no exceptions. The laws of the order the constitution, the statutes and ritual. Each Lodges by-laws mirror these laws and merit equal obedience. The rich history, wisdom and experience embodied in our laws allow us to move forward, not in lock step ,but in common purpose. Our orders laws keep us solvent, responsive and geared to programs we espouse. They assist us in maintaining order and good community image, and ensure that this Wonderful American Order we have been provided by our forefathers, which we now labor and serve will continue. The laws of the order are not a guide, they are to be fully implemented and followed by all of as persons of honor-no exceptions. if you have always done it some other way ,perhaps it is time try it the Eagles way. Who knows- it might help you do better!

A message from Worthy President
Carmen Zimmerman

It is almost fall. How did that happen? I love football season. For those of you that don't know, my husband and I are die hard Beaver fans, attending all home football games. (don't hold that against me if you are a Duck fan!) I love the competition and the rivalry. But what I love most is that I still love you if you aren't a Beaver fan. Isn't that how it should be at the club? We may share in the same views, we may differ, but we all should love one another. One person is no more right than another. If we can each realize this, maybe we can treat each other and changes with a little more respect. We all don't like certain music, certain events, etc, but that doesn't mean we cannot appreciate that others like something different I think some may be upset to not have live music on the Sunday nights that Karaoke is coming back to, but sometimes we have to make changes. Sometimes the changes work, sometimes they don't, but we don't know until we try. I am asking you all to keep an open mind with any events that we have. There may be new music on a night you are used to the same band. Come with an open mind and see for yourself if you like it. You might be surprised! I have to say, I LOVED the turnout for the Luau and that almost everyone there was dressed in some Hawaiian attire! Your support for events make the activities committee feel like good! Remember to thank your volunteers! A token of gratitude goes a long way!!

Reminder to all: We do have House Rules that all are to abide by. Please make yourself familiar with them. They address rules for guests, visitors, dress code, children, etc.

Just to Mention a few:

13(e)(2). Men's shirt sleeve must cover at least the middle of the bicep.

21. No animals, Fowls or Pets of any kind (except Service Dogs) are allowed in the Social or Buffet Rooms at any time. (need to show official service permission).

7(d) Guest(s), other than Aerie or Auxiliary family members shall be limited to three visits, after which they must make application for membership, or be denied visitation privileges.

House Rules and By Laws are posted on wall by Pool Room. Please inform yourselves.

We need to give our support & caring to the future of this Lodge. There are many things that we need. If you have a skill that could help in the general maintenance of this great Lodge, please contact the Trustees and offer your skills to help them out. We are still looking for new and interesting event that we can hold here that you will enjoy. Please let myself or Carmen know what you would like to be part of. We have some special events planned that we need the members to volunteer to help with. Signup sheets will be on the bulletin board as you come in. We are unsure what happened to last month's Eagle Beak! It was sent to printers July 22nd. I am sorry for those of you that never received or got late. We are not sure what happened. Whether the issue was with the printing service or the postal service. Hoping this month gets to you sooner! Opt for email if you can! Always will get it prior to first of month! If you don't have email, have a friend print one for you!
